SOMAH Stands with Black Lives Matter

SOMAH stands in solidarity with Black Lives Matter and with all who are fighting for an equitable and just future. These are SOMAH’s driving principles, a program that exists thanks, in large part, to the advocacy of frontline communities striving for energy equity and environmental justice. We remain steadfast in our commitment to equity through a community-based approach that amplifies the voices of frontline communities and ensures we listen to and are responsive to the communities the program serves through public forums, direct outreach and education.

Session 2: SOMAH Program Status and COVID-19 Response

Challenges and Needs

- Ongoing situation and response
- PA issued surveys to understand COVID-19 impact
  - Shelter-in-place
  - Financial impact
  - Timeline impact
  - Impact on job trainees and job training organizations
- Open communication on COVID-19 and shelter-in-place impact
PA Response

1. Created COVID-19 task-force tracking updates
2. Created COVID-19 webpage https://calsomah.org/COVID19 for resources and updates
3. Continue holding events, trainings and forums virtually
4. Issuing as-needed application extensions for application corrections
5. Implementing Energy Efficiency Postponement Request process
Energy efficiency compliance milestone

● Energy auditors may have limitations or restrictions on onsite and in-unit energy audits
● Property owner may have more limited availability for document signatures
● Request EECM Postponement, if needed, no later than the original EECM due date
● All EECM requirements remain intact
Tenant education

- Mail or direct delivery in languages accessible by all residents 30 days or fewer prior to the start of construction is still required, in addition to one additional education method.

- Low-income communities and DACs are disproportionately more vulnerable to public health crises.
  - Postpone any in-person tenant workshops until conditions are deemed safe by the state of California or local government.
  - Exercise caution and mind social distancing guidelines if distributing flyers.

- Questions?: tenants@CalSOMAH.org

Session 3: Program Updates & Incentive Changes

Incentive Step-Down: Overview

• What: Detailed annual incentive step-down analysis; 5% reduction for 2020-2021 program year

• How: Lesser of 5%/year or informed by rate of decrease in NREL reports

• Why: Required by Decision; ensure SOMAH incentives track downward with declining cost of solar

• When: Annually on July 1; analysis by June 1 going forward
Session 3: Program Updates & Incentive Changes

Incentive Step-Down: Context

• The SOMAH PA acknowledges the economic hardship that many people, communities and industries are facing amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

• The SOMAH PA also acknowledges that a PFM of Decision 17-12-022 was submitted in May related to SOMAH’s incentive step-down process.

• The PA will await the CPUC’s direction in taking any action other than what has already been explicitly prescribed in the Decision.

• In future program years, the PA commits to publishing its analysis by June 1 ahead of a July 1 step-down.
Incentive Step-Down Methodology

• Decision 17-12-022 states that “incentive levels will decrease by the annual percent decline in residential solar costs as reflected by NREL reports, or 5% annually, whichever is less.”

• The SOMAH PA examined changes in the cost of residential solar energy systems from 2017 and 2018, the most recent years available for NREL’s “U.S. Solar Photovoltaic System Cost Benchmark” technical report series.

• The SOMAH Handbook states the “annual reduction will occur at the 12-month point from the program launch date.”
Incentive Step-Down Methodology

- The NREL report provides both national and California-specific data on residential solar cost benchmarks.
- % step-down was calculated using inflation-adjusted or “real” dollars in the NREL technical report, a standard practice for temporal financial analyses, and the SOMAH PA follows suit.
  - The 2017 benchmark in 2018 USD was compared to the 2018 benchmark in 2018 USD.
  - For the 2020-2021 program year, both national and state analyses yield the same 5% step-down in SOMAH’s incentive levels.
Incentive Step-Down Methodology

- National residential benchmark costs:
  - 2017 benchmark in 2018 USD: $2.84 per Watt, DC
  - 2018 benchmark in 2018 USD: $2.70 per Watt, DC
  - % step-down: 4.93%

- California-specific residential benchmark costs:
  - 2017 benchmark in 2018 USD: $2.94 per Watt, DC
  - 2018 benchmark in 2018 USD: $2.75 per Watt, DC
  - % step-down: 6.46%

- The step-down defaults to a 5% per the Decision
  - The 4.93% decrease in the national benchmark, when rounded to the nearest whole cent, yields the same result as a 5% step-down.

Session 3: Program Updates & Incentive Changes

Incentive Step-Down: Additional Analyses

• The Lawrence Berkeley National Lab (LBNL)’s report “Tracking the Sun” is also mentioned in the Decision.

• LBNL and NREL are related but distinct entities.

• “Tracking the Sun” focuses on price rather than cost, which includes additional net profit.
  • As NREL sites in their report, “Profit is one of the differentiators between “cost” (aggregated expenses incurred by a developer/installer to build a system) and “price” (what the end user pays for a system).”

• Why not LBNL’s “Tracking the Sun” technical report series?
  • Price rather cost-focused (Decision specifies cost)
  • LBNL rather than NREL (Decision specifies NREL)
Incentive Step-Down: Additional Analyses

- The “Solar Technology Cost Analysis” section of the NREL website also has a “Quarterly Solar Industry Updates” presentation series.

- Why not “Quarterly Solar Industry Updates”? The Decision specifies:
  - “Reports” rather than presentations
  - “Cost” rather than “price” analysis
